Title: Pilgrimage

Dates: 19/04/2015 – 02/05/2015

This was a high octane production involving a wide range of stunts and high speed scenarios. To complete the script on this film we provided correctly trained horses along with highly skilled team members for all the stunt work. We performed fight scenes from horseback along with take downs and dismounts; we also provided a horse and carriage and had multiple chase scenes involving this.

All actors were retrained on set as we were drafted in after the first week of filming due to too many incidents accruing on set with the original local horse provider.

We also travelled to Belgium along with two of our horses to complete two weeks of shooting in Spa near Brussels.

Title: The Flag

Dates: 07/04/2016 -16/4/2016

For this production we provided a single horse to be ridden by two actors without a bridle or saddle, which is a first in Ireland.

We also performed a double stunt rider jump without a bridle or saddle which has never been done in Ireland and maybe the world. We also provided a fully functioning horse rig for the close ups of actors to mimic a horse and towed behind a vehicle.

Title: Redwater

Dates: 04/05/2016 – 24/07/2016

For this production we worked with the BBC and complied fully with all the regulations that were in place regarding registered companies and the very strict conditions regarding working with child actors.

We provided a number of horses to play the lead horse to carry out all the requirements perfectly.

The horse had to be ridden by an elderly actor and also a child actor while also drawing a carriage and performing a rearing stunt in the sea. This stunt was another first carried out by us in Ireland and made all the more enjoyable given there was no room for error.
